
Manage Third-Party Services [1]

The need to assure that services provided by third parties (suppliers, vendors and partners) meet business requirements requires an effective third-party management process. This process is accomplished by clearly defining the roles, responsibilities and expectations in third-party agreements as well as reviewing and monitoring such agreements for effectiveness and compliance. Effective management of third-party services minimizes the business risk associated with non-performing suppliers.

Source URL: <https://gta.georgia.gov/psg/book-page/manage-third-party-services>