

---

Manage the Physical Environment [1]

Protection for computer equipment and personnel requires well-designed and well-managed physical facilities. The process of managing the physical environment includes defining the physical site requirements, selecting appropriate facilities, and designing effective processes for monitoring environmental factors and managing physical access. Effective management of the physical environment reduces business interruptions from damage to computer equipment and personnel.

---

Source URL: <https://gta.georgia.gov/psg/book-page/manage-physical-environment>